Men Students Must Have 'C' Average To Be Eligible For Reserve Programs; Board To Return

Men students must have a "C" average in their college work to enlist in one of the reserve programs, it was emphasized yesterday at a meeting of the all-college Service Committee. Dean of Men Paul Pitman, chairman of the committee, urges all men planning on joining one of the Navy reserve programs or the Marine Corps reserve when the Joint Procurement Board returns to the campus November 12, 13, and 14, to obtain a statement from Registrar Joe West regard their standing as a "C" student or better, within the next three days.

Exceptions may be made if the student has less than a C average but shows outstanding qualities for leadership," states Dean Pitman. However, we must be informed of these cases at once so that action can be taken without delay as Mr. West is going to attend a Registrar's convention soon and will be unavailable."

When the Joint Procurement Board returns to San Jose State College it will see applicants for reserve by appointment only. Men interested should sign up with the Dean of Men's office as soon as possible for these appointments, which will be at five-minute intervals beginning at 9:30 a.m., November 12. Enrollment in the Navy V-1, V-5 and V-7, Marine Corps reserve, and the Army Air Corps reserve will be made during the three-day period.

Men interested in joining the Enlisted Reserve Corps must have the statement of good standing obtained from Mr. West. No enlistment will be made when the Joint Procurement Board returns to the campus. Men planning to enlist within the next month at 49 Fourth street, San Francisco.

The Joint Traveling Board made up of Army, Navy, Air Corps, and Marine officers, visited San Jose October 28 and 29 to explain respective reserve programs to each branch of the service. It is stressed that the student is serving his country while studying in college as much as the soldier at Camp Roberts or the sailor on the fleet.

The All-College Service Committee is made up of the following faculty members: Dean Pitman, chairman; P. Victor Peterson, Frank Petersen, James DeVoss, Joe West, Heber Poytress, William Poytress and Glenn Hartranft.

Sign Today For Commerce Dinner

Today is the last day for secondary students to sign up for the Commerce dinner to be held at the Hotel De Anza, Wednesday night at 6:30, according to W. Atkinson, commerce instructor. All students planning to do commercial teaching should come and get acquainted with the faculty from San Jose high school," says A. Curry and H. J. Boer of San Francisco will speak to those attending on the subject of teaching commercial subjects.

OPEN LETTER TO THE SAN JOSE STATE COLLEGE STUDENT BODY.

Dear Members of the Student Body:

This letter is in the form of a request and comment rather than a criticism. At the last few football games it has been customary for the rooting section to give the official a good boost by counting off the steps when he penalizes the other team. This expresses your pleasure and enthusiasm.

This is hardly the sportsmanlike way of acknowledging a mistake and unintentional fault of a worthy opponent. Penalties are usually unintentional as no coach in the business today ever allows or permits his team to intentionally foul the other team.

I hope that the rooting sections in the future will acknowledge this good sportsmanlike attitude by feeling sorry for the other team and keeping quiet when an advantage is given to San Jose through one of the opponent's mistakes.

Sometimes silence is golden.

Sincerely yours,
S. GLENN HARTRANFT,
Football Coach.

Orson Welles' Famous Radio Play Will Be Presented Here Friday Night

An exact replica of Orson Welles' famous radio play, "Invasion From Mars", that fooled the nation into fear several years ago, will be presented Friday at 8:00 p.m. in the Little Theater.

Directed by Speech Instructor Wendell Johnson and enacted by members of KSJS, college radio speaking society, the program is free to student body card holders. While the same technique as the original radio production will be employed, players will be seen from the stage.

Dr. William Poytress of the college faculty will furnish all commentary, including a summary of the effect that the original Welles' production made upon susceptible citizens of the United States.

The program is to begin promptly at 8:00 p.m. and will last approximately one hour.

Annual Christmas Play Selected; Tryout Date Announced Tomorrow

A one-act play by Dorothy Yost entitled "No Room at the Inn" will be expanded to include the nativity scene and will be produced in the Morris Dailey auditorium, December 3 and 4, as the Christmas production for this year.

The play is being revised so that it can be presented in pageant form, and will include musical numbers and a larger cast, made up of Herod's tax collector, a representative of Caesar Augustus, and local characters of that period, to lend a more colorful atmosphere to the production.

The A Cappella Choir, under the direction of William Erlendson, and a choral group, directed by Miss Maurene Thompson, will furnish the musical numbers.

Under the direction and supervision of Wendell Johnson, speech instructor, the production as a whole is being planned so that the pictorial and musical aspect will be emphasized instead of dramatic acting.

The date, time, and place for tryouts for the annual yule-tide play will be announced in tomorrow's paper.

SCA INITIATION SET FOR THURSDAY

This year's SCA initiation will be held tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Student Center, 120 E. San Antonio street, announces Virginia Upton, chairman of the affair.

Officers of the organization will participate in the ceremony. They include Paul Mobley, president; Virginia Davis, secretary; Marshall Kelly, treasurer; Mary Sanchez and Sam Zones, national representatives.

Refreshments will be served after the ceremony, says Miss Upton. All SCA members are urged to attend this annual party.

The SCA meets regularly at the Student Center, where they have club and game rooms, and various facilities for entertainment.

Those students interested in working on the technical staff should see Johnson in room 165B.

JUNIOR CLASS SPIRIT SURGES AS PLANS FOR PARTY-DANCE ON NOVEMBER 9 TAKE SHAPE

One week from tonight the junior class will swing to the tunes of the nations most famous bands in an "off the record" dance party in the men's gym from 7:30 to 11.

It is to be a strictly informal affair and the theme is "Fun," according to Doug Aitken, chairman. Junior council members met Wednesday at noon to plan the party and all committees have swung in action to make this an affair to be long remembered, according to Aitken.

The council is asking all juniors to plan to attend the party. "Our getting acquainted at this dance will be a move toward the necessary spirit to keep the class rolling until graduation and to prove that we are filled with the spirit of true upper classmen," stated Loren Nicholson, publicity manager.

In the near future will come the Junior-Senior Mixer. Earl Poytress, junior president, and members of the council are working hard to out-populate the seniors at this affair. "The junior class party should create spirit enough to far outdo any spirit that the senior class might possibly have," stated Aitken.

Admission to the party may be gained only upon presentation of student-body cards marked "junior". Juniors will be waiting anxiously for any sabotage workers of other classes and will be prepared to give such people their just penalty, stated Aitken.

Free haircuts will be furnished all people in attendance who are not juniors, the council decided. In case of sabotage work by the seniors, it is expected that bald heads will be in season, stated the chairman.

Talent Show Tryouts Tonight In Little Theater

"Here is a great opportunity for all students who believe they are not doing enough to help the war effort," said Miss Betty Henley, chairman of social affairs for service men. On the basis of the fine entertainment of last year's shows, many requests have been received from service men centers asking for student entertainment.

Tryouts for the Army shows will be held tonight in the Little Theater between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. All those interested in taking any part in these shows should be present at this time, said Miss Henley.

The cast for the first show, perhaps to be presented in an Army camp in the Santa Clara valley or the bay region, will be chosen tonight. Singers should bring their music, actors should come prepared with their reading, monologues or novelty acts. Talent that is not used in the first show will be considered for the next show, said Miss Henley.

Besides performers, piano accompanists, stage crew workers, good script writers, and all other persons connected with putting on a show are needed.

OUTWORN BOOKS REQUESTED FOR MEN IN SERVICE

Have you any old school books that have done their duty by your store of knowledge, and are now resting under several layers of dust and cobwebs in some dark closet?

If so, you can do your duty by them and by our men in the service by digging them out and bringing them into room 32, the Red Cross sewing center on the campus.

Mrs. Mark Hopkins, chairman of camps and hospital service for the Red Cross, has asked that students donate chemistry, physics, meteorology, aerology, navigation and mathematics textbooks for the use of soldiers.

Band Notice

To the accompaniment of all whistles and sirens in town, the San Jose State Marching Band will officially mark the commencement of the San Jose Bond for Victory Drive this noon by playing the National Hymn, "The Star Spangled Banner".

Band members will meet, ready to play, at 12 o'clock at the intersection of First and Santa Clara streets.

Tuesday Deadline For Organizations La Torre Lists

Tomorrow is the deadline for submitting alphabetical lists of organization members for the La Torre, announces Marge Behrman, associate editor of the yearbook.

According to Miss Behrman, all fraternities and the following sororities have yet to turn in their lists to the La Torre staff in the Publications office: Kappa Kappa Sigma, Phi Kappa Pi, Zeta Chi, and Beta Gamma Chi. Lists should be pinned on the La Torre bulletin board.

"We must have those name lists; pictures in the La Torre are useless without them," states Miss Behrman.

Barbara Kurz, editor of the yearbook, announces that faculty members are being contacted for pictures and that the business staff is urging that members of the faculty buy their advance subscription for a La Torre as soon as possible.

Still short of their sales goal of 1500 yearbooks, the business staff headed by Jerry Becker is still selling advance subscriptions for the annual in the Publications office between the hours of 9 a.m. and 3 p.m. Following a several weeks' campaign with a special price for the subscriptions, the business staff has raised the charge for a 1943 La Torre to $3.25.

Students in the reserves expecting to be called before the annual is published in June are again reminded by Becker that they can be assured of receiving the La Torre indirectly, if they should be called to duty, for the permanent address of every advance subscription purchaser is being taken and the annual will be sent to that address.

All faculty members please meet in room 24 at 4 o'clock today to discuss election. Bring sample ballots.

This old war may have some good in it after all. So many of you men are now in the Reserves that teaching is going to be a snap. We'll just hand out the stuff—and watch you squirm. No kicking about hard assignments, no excuses, you get it or, boy—you're peeling spuds. What a break for the faculty (we don't get very many, you know, and this one is welcome).

Someone has suggested that college-bred means a four-year loaf. But not any more, not around here, brother. Hard work from now on. Sweat and tears and midnight oil. No arguments, no gold bricks, just work and more work. Great! Well, really, you may like it. You'll get a great kick out of a few A's and B's.

Then, too, you'll want to get into good physical condition. Reasonable habits, plenty of exercise, lots to eat. Worthwhile too; make you feel better than ever. Might save your life some day. Might get you a medal. Certainly it will win the war. You get into condition and develop your skills—or you'll get killed.

Nice bunch of officers they sent around, wasn't it. If the rest of them are like that, the war is going to be a success after all.

They're coming back again on the 12th, 13th, and 14th, with

CAMPUS COMMENT

By DEAN THOMPSON

—Pooling of cars for school transportation is well on its way to becoming a reality here at San Jose State college.

This college is not alone in its effort to help in tire and gasoline rationing. According to a late issue of the Los Angeles Collegian, the Los Angeles City college is taking its first step in that direction.

It looks as though we have been one of the first institutions on the coast to tackle the problem.

—Looking ahead to the period following the war, many colleges and universities have begun to feature a more diversified program in the line of foreign languages.

Washington State college is laying the groundwork for a class in Portuguese, according to its publication, the "Evergreen". Releases from large eastern institutions of learning have stated that languages are playing a more important part in their programs. In one university, plans for teaching Japanese are already completed.

In Wendell Willkie's recent speech, he expressed the opinion that the world will be a more democratic one after this war. We must be willing to accept all races in the world as our equal, and we should have authoritative representatives in each country—large or small.

Willkie gave one example of representative of the United States in a foreign country for years who had not taken the trouble to learn the native tongue.

In future years that will not be allowed. While there may eventually be a trend toward an international language, there is no language widespread enough to justify its knowledge alone being sufficient for the learner of the future.

—On the lighter side of the language question, it can truthfully be said that there is only one language that a business man should listen to. That language is "increased business".

Advertising in the Daily does increase business for the advertiser so you are talking their language when you say, "I saw it advertised in the Spartan Daily".

There will be an important meeting of the Eta Epsilon, November 2, in room 3 of the Economics building at 4 p.m. and the money for the pin will be collected at this time.

Spartan Knights: Meeting night at 7:00 o'clock in the Student Union. Very important; all members should be there.

SPORTS SCRAPS

By
"SCRAPPY" SQUATRITO

Leaving to join the Navy some time this month is Gene Rocchi, assistant back-field coach on the grid squad. Rocchi was commissioned an ensign last month. A former half-back under Dud DeGroot while Dud was coach-GENE ROCCHI, San Jose State's football team, Rocchi gained honorable mention on the Little All-American team of 1938. Much of the success of the present pigskin outfit can be laid to him.

This may still be football season, and track information has no place in the sports picture right now, but since we didn't get the material until now, here goes. According to a Mr. Joseph S. Trum of station FRIC in Beaumont, Texas, who collects facts and figures on every track event in the country, the Spartans, led by triple star Bill Smith, rank with the top teams in the country.

Smith had the best broad jump mark in the nation last year with a jump of 25 feet. He tied for second place in the 100-yard dash at 9.5 seconds, and placed 17th in the high jump with a leap of 6 feet 5 inches—not bad for a freshman, not bad at all.

Willie Steele took third place in the broad jump with a mark of 24 feet 9 1/4 inches, just a half inch short of second place. Ralph Kaufman tied for 16th place in the 220-yard dash with a mark of 21.5 seconds. Lanky Thelno Knowles made the fifth best mark for the 880 with his time of 1 minute 53.9 seconds.

Vern Cooley tied for 13th place with 10 others at 13 feet 6 inches in the pole vault. Frank Minini's 49 feet 11 1/2 inch toss of the shot earned him the 15th best mark, while his discus throw of 142 feet 11 1/2 inches gave him 43rd place in that event. San Jose had the 19th fastest time for the mile relay with a mark of 3 minutes 11.7 seconds.

In the big relay meets several Spartans took first places. In the Long Beach relays Elwood Clark took first in the javalin, and Smith took first in the broad jump and high jump. In the Southern Pacific A. A. U. Knowles took first in the 880 and Smith first in the broad jump. In the Northern California relay Steele took the broad jump and Minini grabbed the shot-put honors.

And last, but not least, the Spartans scored 85 1/4 points in the California Collegiate Athletic association compared to the 79 1/4 points picked up by the combined squads of Fresno, Santa Barbara and San Diego State colleges.

Noon League Title At Stake In Sheets Vs. Akamain Battle

With a chance to even up the score and end the season in a tie for the league championship, Ver Akamain will lead his Noon League football squad against the league-leading team captained by Marvin Sheets tomorrow in the first half of the final game for the 1942 intramural season.

In their last meeting, the two squads came together undefeated, with the league lead in the balance. The Sheets team triumphed and have held the lead since. The Akamain squad is still smarting from that defeat, their only defeat of the season, and will go into this

WATERPOLOISTS TO EVEN SCORE IN RE-MATCH WITH STANFORD

Out to avenge an early season defeat suffered at the hands of the Stanford paddlers, San Jose's water polo squad will again meet the Indians tomorrow in the local pool.

Injured Players? They're Soccer Men

It's three to one that if you see a fella hobbling around school on crutches or with his arm in a sling, he's a member of the soccer team.

At least that seems to be the way Coach Roy Diederichsen sees it these days with four of his regulars sidelined by injuries. Dale Nelson, high-scoring rightwing man, is in the Health cottage with a severe cold and will not be available to the squad until some time next week.

PHILLIPS LAID UP

Jerry Phillips, rugged center-half, is laid up with painful bone bruises on both legs and may be out for some time although Diederichsen expects him to be ready early next week.

Frank Arnerich is still bothered by the charley-horse which has kept him from seeing much action this year, but Diederichsen hopes that he may be on deck for the Stanford game, November 7.

Adding injury to injury, Angelo Colombo, promising rightwing man, suffered a broken wrist in a pile-up during practice last Thursday night and will be out for the season.

ROBINSON LEAVES

Then there's Keith Robinson, first-string left-half, who is leaving for the air corps today, and Rod Swearer, who is giving up his inside left spot for a first chair spot in Uncle Sammy's army band.

It may not be the luck of the Irish, but it's some kind of luck—here Diederichsen is barely able to put 11 men on the field (and they are held together with adhesive tape and old shoestrings) and the Spartans come to a two-week lapse in their schedule.

Two whole weeks of rest before the Stanford game. Somehow this doesn't sound true—no coach has ever before been faced with so many worries only to have a breather come along to help him—and there is nothing like a good rest to put a team back on its feet.

week's game with the hope of avenging themselves.

The second game of the week features the battle of the lower division teams. A vastly improved Gottschang team meets the Toasperm aggregation in the second meeting for both. Toasperm came out of the first encounter with a score in their favor. Gottschang's team tied the second-place Akamain group 18-18 in last week's game.

Tomorrow's games to be played on the San Carlos turf are scheduled to start at 12:15.

League standings at the end of the fourth week of play, as announced by Ivan Olsen, are as follows:

WILLIE STEELE RAMBLES 70 YARDS TO SCORE AS SPARTANS DEFEAT COAST GUARD SEA LIONS 9 TO 0

By JOHNNY HUBBARD

Willie Steele, San Jose's living example of a Horatio Alger "rags to riches" character, wrote another chapter in his "rise to fame" story yesterday in Spartan Stadium when he got his hands on a short pass, midway in the second quarter, and scooted 70 yards to a touchdown, highlighting State's 9 to 0 win over the Coast Guard.

It was exactly the same play that he scored on against U. S. F. last Sunday—a screen pass with Charlie Cook, sub fullback, doing the heaving.

But if that run last week was sensational, yesterday's was a Hollywood press agent's dream. Willie snared the football on San Jose's 30, and wriggling his hips like a hula-hula queen, slipped through the Sea Lion defense behind perfect blocking to race the last 40 or 50 yards absolutely out in the clear.

This play was the bright spot of an otherwise pretty unexciting game which was more or less of a "tit-tat-toe" affair from start to finish, except for those thrilling 30 odd seconds described above.

Coach Joe Verducci's Coast Guard team didn't have much to offer in an offensive way, and neither did State for that matter. But the Spartans have an alibi, and a darned good one—George Foote and Bill Parton, the touchdown twins, Bert Robinson, fullback and key man on attack, and Gray McConnell, rugged tackle, were all out of the game because of injuries.

The first three mentioned make up, along with Bill Perry, quarterback, State's first string backfield. Perry was in the game, but didn't see much action himself.

So it was a reserve backfield and a first string line that accomplished the victory—and did it convincingly, even if the score doesn't show it.

In scoring a total of nine points, six were accounted for by Steele on that run, one was tallied by Bill Perry, making good on the conversion attempt—and the other two were a gift from the Sea Lions due to freak that isn't seen very often on the gridiron.

Here's a picture of the situation. Late in the final period, Jack Porter, Spartan reserve fullback, punted a coffin-corner kick that went out on the Coast Guard one-foot line. Joe Haynes, a Sea Lion back, stepped out of the end zone while trying to throw a pass on a fake punt play, thereby giving San Jose two points on a safety.

Casaba Men In Heavy Scrimmages

Heavy scrimmage was in progress last Thursday afternoon and evening as Coach Ed Blesh put his proteges through the paces in order to cultivate a basic system of offense for the opening of the season, only four weeks away.

Those who showed up well were Cas Bruer and Bob Taylor at the forward posts, Wayne Staley at the guard position, and Elwood Clark, who works from the pivot post. Clark's younger brother, Lee, is a freshman prospect for a forward position and he shows possibilities of becoming a good cager. He is a very good floorman.

Coach Ed Blesh states that the boys, as a whole, look good, and the prospects for a successful season are in the making. Competition is keen and the newcomers are going to give each veteran a nip and tuck battle for a starting position.

DSG Meets APO Tomorrow In Third Inter-Frat Game

Last year's champ meets the team that was runner-up in the second place spot as the DSG grid-ders meet the APO squad in the third game of the 1942 inter-fraternity football league series tomorrow on the San Carlos turf.

DSG was the 1941 inter-fraternity football champion while the APOers wound up the season in second place. Tomorrow's contest will be the first in the current series for both squads. So far there have been but two games played by the frat boys. In the league opener, the Gamma Phi and SGO teams fought to a 12 to 12 tie, and the Beta Chi team took a 6 to 0 win from DTO in a tight battle last Wednesday.

The league is made up of teams representing the six on-campus social fraternities, and is under the direction of Joe Weitzenberg. Each team will meet the others once during the six weeks of play.

"Play will go on, rain or shine," states Weitzenberg. "Last year, due to many postponements, play had to be called before the schedule had been played out. The only thing that will postpone a game this year will be a cloudburst."

The games are played on the San Carlos turf on Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Touch tackle rules will be used. Each team is made up of six men, but a coach may substitute as freely as he sees fit.

Game time for tomorrow's game between DSG and APO has been set at 4:15.

COP DEAN OF MEN SENDS APOLOGY

Editor's note:

The following letter, received from James H. Corson, dean of men at the College of Pacific, was recently received by our own Dean of Men Paul Pitman. Mr. Corson, representing the true spirit of sportsmanship that has always existed between the College of Pacific and ourselves, apologizes for the unfortunate acts of vandalism perpetrated on our campus by a few Pacific students.

Mr. Paul Pitman,
Dean of Men,
San Jose State College,
San Jose, California.

Dear Paul:

I apologize for being so neglectful as to delay writing you following your phone call. President Knoles has been absent from the College and has thus been unable to write you officially.

I wish to take this opportunity of apologizing to the San Jose State college—the faculty, students and administrative personnel, for the acts of vandalism perpetrated. As I assured you over the telephone we await receipt of a statement of the actual damage to the end that we may reimburse you accordingly. The payment of this will come directly from those involved insofar as it is possible for me to obtain their identity.

In the meantime I congratulate you on the performance of your team. You have a most excellent squad.

KNICK'S KNACKS

THOSE POOR SENIORS

Until the day that Washington Square is round, I guess there will be rivalry—and how—between Juniors and Seniors.

The plot thickens this year and the seniors tremble as both classes have chosen the same night for a class party. What an opportunity for mischief! Have been watching small groups of juniors gather in small huddles about the campus and come out in fits of laughter. Sumpin's brewin', and it's few seniors who know it or will have an opportunity to know it until—too late.

I'm not sure that all of the juniors are in the KNOW, but the grapevine will no doubt solve the problem. November 9 is the night, and members of both classes are gonna have fun aplenty, methinks. Last year the juniors left the seniors in the dust on the Sneak. Almost beat the seniors where they were going. As students become seniors, I guess they get "stiff". (I don't mean incapable of handling themselves because of the beverages they partake of.) I mean they reach that age where they feel mature. Is it any wonder that the juniors can walk circles around them? Suggest that seniors wear their boots on the night of November 9. At least, they can then say that the spirit of '43 died with its boots on.

MEANWHILE SOPHOMORES AND FRESHMEN "DE-JEAN"

Idle chatter seems to indicate the possibility of the freshmen winning this "de-jeaning" contest because they outnumber the sophomores and because the spirit of the higher lowerclassmen always tends to decrease with their advancing years.

Also heard men saying they were going to bring two pairs of jeans. When they lose one pair they'll just slip another on and re-enter the scrap. Pretty good idea. In fact, that could go on forever. Contests of the past between the lower classmen in their disgarbing scrap have been somewhat unorganized. Understand that this is not the case this year. There will be a definite time limit set and the number of jeans without men in them will decide which class is the "winnah".

It is an accepted tradition that the sophomores always win. That is a tradition well worth breaking, and officers of the sophomore class don't believe it can be done. (According to the quotes read in the Spartan Daily.)

Students Should Sign For Survey, Says Gardiner

"There are still a few students who have not filled out the questionnaire that the College Transportation committee has distributed to obtain statistics designed to alleviate the problem of transporting students to and from school," states Rex Gardiner, chairman of the committee.

All students living more than a mile away from school should be sure to aid the survey in getting the facts as soon as possible because the gas ration program is fast approaching us and some means of taking care of students who drive to school will have to be found, Gardiner explained.

Some students who register and who carry passengers will most probably be able to get gas, but those who do not register and allow the committee to arrange for passengers certainly will not, according to Gardiner.

Too Many Knitters, Yarn Supply Gone

Dean Dimmick announced Friday that the girls of San Jose State college have responded so well to the demand for knitters that all the available yarn for the campus unit is gone. Some of the finished garments are being turned in now and she described them as being "beautifully done".

As soon as there is more yarn to be had, a notice will appear in the Daily. However, Dean Dimmick said that if there is anyone who has any four-ply yarn which is not in use, it would be appreciated if the owner could donate it to the campus Red Cross unit.

Chapel Hour offers a time for out-of-town students to enter fellowship with others and with church young people of all faiths, and does not interfere with the local church programs. It was started by AWA last year. Today it is jointly conducted by AWA and the Inter-Faith Council of the SCA, who are working with the Chapel Hour committee.

The executive council of the Rally Committee please meet in the Student Union at 12:15 tomorrow. Izzy Gold has to get the bylaws to the Student Council for final approval. Signed, Hugh Manley, Chairman, Rally Committee.

Craft Class Trains Future Teachers Of Kindergarten

By FLOYD REZEWAILE

Are they doing undergrat work for Walt Disney's studio? Are they scouts for Santa Claus? Or are they just sabotaging the animal kingdom?

Anyone walking into the Craft class room when there was no one around to explain what he was seeing, would surely believe he was having hallucinations.

For on a series of tables and sideboards is the greatest and most creative menagerie of animal that evolved from the one-celled amoeba.

You could never imagine what a class consisting of girls could do with some old newspapers, a jar of paste, and some paint. They take the paper and wrap it up into several shapes resembling animal bodies and after brushing it thoroughly with paste, take a paint brush and let their imagination do the rest.

The purpose of the course is to teach prospective teachers how to do handicraft work, so that they may pass it down to their pupils. Some day little children may throw away their dolls and instead to bed with them the red dinosaurs and purple ant-eaters that they learned to make in their kindergarten class.

Another feature of the class is its soap-carving exhibit. Think — taking a little ordinary piece of soap and creating a masterpiece, a miniature camel, or model doll-house.

The girls doing this sort of work must be conscious of a soap shortage, for they save all the shavings as a class by-product.

There are several things that can be done with these shavings. They can use them to wash the splattered paint off their hands; donate them to the school department for cleaning the floors, or take washing.
